Public hearing to address tax rate

City will take compensating rate plus 4%

By Roger McKinney, Reporter

In a special called meeting on August 27 the Falmouth City Clerk Terry England gave a first reading to an ordinance that proposed the city's tax on real estate property for 2014-2015 be set using the compensating Rate +4. A motion was made to that effect. The motion received a second and a roll call vote was taken. Three council members voted (Yes) and three council members voted (No). The mayor of Falmouth voted (Yes) to break the tie.

A public hearing was conducted in Falmouth City Hall on September 12, 2014 that allowed citizens to voice their opinions regarding the city's proposed 2014-2015 real estate property tax rate. The first person to make a comment said that he understood that the city was in a position where it had to increase taxes, but that in the future the mayor and the council should explore all possible options to balance the budget before a tax increase was proposed.

A second person wanted to know why the city was spending money developing the Klee Farm property when it was experiencing such financial dire straits.

Mayor Hart answered that the city was seeking a developer for the property, who could propose a plan for structuring the site, but the city of Falmouth was not currently spending money on the property.

The citizen also asked why the city

Tax

Falmouth Mayor Mark Hart said that according to state standards a city of Falmouth's size and population required seven officers. Operating with less than that number would cause a drastic rise in liability insurance costs for Falmouth residents.

After the hearing was concluded the Falmouth City Council went into an open forum where they took up the business of setting the 2014-2015 real estate property tax rate. The Falmouth City Clerk performed a second reading of the ordinance that proposed using the compensating rate + 4 to set the city's 2014-2015 real estate property tax rate.

A motion was made to that effect. The motion received a second and a roll call vote was taken: Darryl Ammerman - (Yes), Jodi Ramey - (Yes), Ron Stinson - (Yes), Stan Love - (No), Gary Askin - (No) and Ernie Richie - (No). The tally was three (Yes) votes and three (No) votes. Falmouth's mayor broke the tie by voting (Yes). Thus, the motion passed by a vote of four over three.

The three council members who voted (Yes) said that when the 2014-2015 Budget was passed it was with the understanding that balancing that budget required the taking of the compensating rate + 4.

The three council members who voted (No) said that additional cuts should have been made instead of raising taxes.

Mayor Mark Hart responded by asking, "Why wasn't any motions made to make additional cuts at that time?" He received no answer. Mayor Hart went on to say that he thought the council did the correct thing by passing the budget that was proposed and pointed out that the budget passed with every council member voting for it, not against it.

The University of Kentucky sent 14 students up to assist on this project. The Lions Club served them a meal at the Butler park to thank them for their help in improving the Butler area streams.

Father Joseph celebrates 25 years in the priesthood

The evolution of the Father's name is discussed

By Roger McKinney, Reporter

The following information is taken directly from a 2013 Our Lady's Farm agenda biography of Falmouth, Kentucky's St. Francis Xavier Church Program Administrator, Father Joseph Edakkulathoor: (In 1989 Father Joseph was ordained a priest. His first appointment as a newly ordained priest was director of All India Catholic University Federation and Chaplain of the Central Prison in India. Alongside Bishop Joseph Kundukulm at Central Prison, he constructed a church for all Christian denominations, a Hindu Temple, A Mosque, and an open air theater. This was a first in any India prison. Mother Teresa of Calcutta came to admire their accomplishments and blessed the prisoners by her holy presence.

In 1993 as a young priest, Father Joseph was appointed as Prior of the Infant Jesus Monastery and Church. He went on to work as director, board member and joint secretary of famous Kalabhavan in Cochin. While working at Kalabhavan, he was appointed as director of Chavara Cultural Center in Cochin.

In the year 2000, Father Joseph, served Sacred Heart Church in Nashville, Tennessee as assistant pastor and later became Parochial Administrator. From 2001 until 2003, still in Nashville, he became the assistant pastor at St. Pius X.

In 2004, Father Joseph became the first Carmelite Priest to start a mission at St. Paul in Florence, Kentucky. He continued to work at St. Paul until 2000, when he arrived in Falmouth, Kentucky. He started Syro Malabar Catholic Church in Cincinnati, Ohio and in Louisville,

FATHER JOSEPH EDAKKULATHOOR

Kentucky. Twenty-five years after his ordination into the priesthood, Father Joseph serves as Parochial Administrator of St. Francis Xavier Church in Falmouth and remains a faithful servant of Mother Mary and of the Catholic Church. This year Father Joseph celebrates his Silver Jubilee as a Catholic Priest.)

We all have names given to us at birth, but as time goes by those names may evolve or change completely. For instance, if you were originally called Norma Jeane Baker and one day you transform yourself into a star of the silver screen, your name may change to Marilyn Monroe. When Father Joseph Edakkulathoor was born in 1959 in Kerala, India, he was given the name "Baby" because he was the youngest of six siblings. Many people are called "Baby" in India. The name is as common as Bob or Bill in the United States. When Father Joseph joined the seminary in 1974 he adopted the name "Shepherd." Now, he was "Baby Shepherd Edakkulathoor." In the year 2000 Father Joseph moved from India to Nashville, Tennessee. In Music City "Baby" was not considered the most appropriate name for a priest. It was then that he added the name, "Joseph." Now he was "Baby Shepherd Joseph Edakkulathoor." At that point Father Joseph really had some options. Over the years he has been addressed by a variety of names, but "Baby Shepherd" will always be his favorite.

In conclusion this closing paragraph is taken directly from a Catholic newspaper called the "Messenger." (Originally Father Joseph was not planning on being in the Diocese of Covington for very long, but he said that an encounter at Our Lady's Farm in Falmouth changed all that. "My most spiritual experience here has been with Mother Mary and Our Lady's Farm. I have had a special connection with Mary and that is the reason I am here. I am where I am supposed to be," he said. "The Church has not officially approved the apparitions, but it is a really good pilgrimage place within our diocese. There are many people traveling there whether we believe it or not. I am here because of Mother Mary, I am sure about that.")

DeFalco running for Council

Greetings! My name is April DeFalco and I am running for Falmouth City Council. I am a long time resident of Falmouth and have been employed with The Falmouth Outlook for 12 years and Cash 4 U for seven. As some of you may know I am the former mayor of Falmouth serving from 2007-2010. I am a Pendleton County graduate as well as a graduate of Gateway Community and Technical College in 2003. I am currently enrolled back into Gateway to accomplish my degree in Business Administration.

I have a deep passion and love for my city. I want us to change the negatives into positives in our community and improve our image. Without people and small businesses our community will not survive and my goal is to strengthen our town. When I served as mayor, I had a meeting with the YMCA to open here in Pendleton County; I plan on looking into the project again. I believe that all members of council should take on specific projects to better our community and I will see that this is accomplished. As a council member I will address and listen to issues that members of our small town may have. I am dedicated into looking and solving major issues like electric, budget constraints, flood insurance, esthetics, and the drug issue.

Falmouth is my home, a place where I grew up and I chose to raise my family and I want the best for it. As a council member I will not just be a decision maker; I will be active helping the newly elected mayor to brighten our future. If you have any questions or concerns please feel free to email me at adefalco2@yahoo.com

The Amish Cook shares a delicious fondue recipe

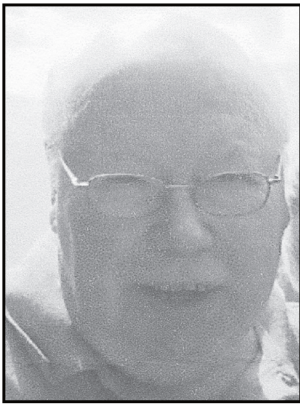

The Amish Cook

By Gloria Yoder

Hi to all of you. Summer is rapidly turning to autumn and we will soon be heading back home to Illinois. We have been staying with my husband's family near Danville, Ohio for the past several weeks. It is cooling off more during the night and the air has more of a fall feel. I'm looking forward to the winter months with a newborn baby. Lord willing. At the same time, I also enjoy fall weather. I especially enjoy picnics and camp-outs. I was delighted the other day when my husband Daniel suggested that perhaps the two of us should go on a picnic together.

I planned a light picnic supper and packed it in a basket. We left Julia with Daniel's family and together we headed for the woods ready for an evening of relaxation and quietness. We helped each other build a fire then settled down to relax until there were enough hot embers to roast our hot dogs. Daniel found a stick that forked on one end. After some whittling it was perfect for roasting hot dogs. It's always a feeling of satisfaction to watch them sizzle to a golden brown. Fresh onion and tomato slices completed our sandwiches. I munched on my favorite vegetable, a cucumber. Daniel teases me about all the cucumbers I eat since he's not very fond of them. I think they're delicious eaten raw with any sandwiches or casseroles.

As we sat beside our cozy fire it seemed I couldn't soak in enough of the beauty and quietness of the evening. It was so refreshing to just

Re-elect Paul this November

I am pleased to announce I will be running for re-election for the Butler City Council. I have been a resident of Butler for 38 years with my wife, Kathy Vanlandingham. I have raised three children in Butler and currently have six grandchildren.

I am determined to serve the good people of Butler by continuing to keep the city officials financially transparent and support the need for an improved water and sewer infrastructure.

If elected, I will be your voice! Please vote for me in the upcoming November election.

Sincerely,
Paul Vanlandingham

relax and have all the time we wanted to talk and simply enjoy each other's presence. I find it interesting and motivating to have his input in both minor and major details of life.

Our evening brought back memories of our courtship days when we took walks in the woods. Then Daniel would often build a fire knowing how much I enjoyed listening to it crackle and watch the leaping flames. It was a wonderful evening.

Meanwhile, this past week we had another birthday party. This time we celebrated my mother-in-law's 60th birthday mark. With all her children and grandchildren being home including those of us who live out of state, we decided she deserved a party especially for her. When someone suggested making a fondue meal I was all for it. Fondue has always impressed me. I've found fondue to be tasty as well as fun both to prepare and eat.

Are you familiar with fondues? For those who are not, a dipping sauce is made along with all kinds of bite-sized dipping material such as fruits, vegetables, etc. We chose to make pizza and cheese sauces along with mocha and fruit dip fondues for dessert. They can be made and served a variety of ways.

"We'll tell Mom to go to mother's house while we prepare supper," my sister-in-law Mary suggested.

As soon as she stepped out the door the race was on. Fruits and vegetables were cut up and arranged on pretty trays, while Mary and I made the fondue dips. Next came the fun part: the decorations. Leaves were added to extend the table, then tablecloths were spread on top and the table was set. Someone blew up balloons and then each of the grandchildren wrote on a balloon for Grandma. Julia was thrilled with the honor of personalizing her balloon. With her little scribbles she wrote "Happy Birthday Grandma, I love you." Next the balloons were all hung from the ceiling.

We set the fruit and vegetable trays on the table and after that everyone was seated. Last but not least the birthday candles were lit and Grandma was summoned to the house. As she walked in the kitchen we sang "Happy Birthday" for her. Surprise was written all over her face. "It looks like a meal fit for a king!" she exclaimed. "It was made for a queen!" I responded.

With the amount of people we had we decided it would be most practical to pass the fondue sauces around the table so everyone could ladle the sauce of their choice onto their plates. Next come the veggies both raw and steamed along with bite-sized steaks and hot dogs. Mmmm. I love dips and here I could dip to my heart's content. The pizza dip seemed to be the biggest hit.

After the main course we enjoyed Mary's mouth-watering mocha fondue and fruit dip. There was a large selection of fruits, pretzels, crackers and donut bites to choose from.

I'll share our two favorite fondue sauce recipes with you.

The Adrian Peterson case: should he be allowed to play?

The Adrian Peterson Case: Should He Be Allowed To Play?

For those who are not aware of this situation, Adrian Peterson is a star running back for the Minnesota Vikings. And, he was benched by his team for the first game of the season. The Vikings lost. So he was reinstated. Then he was benched again, and the latest is: He probably will not play any this year. The NFL is investigating and there have been lots of publicity concerning what should be done.

What did he do? He spanked his four-year-old son with a tree branch, bringing the blood and leaving whelps on his son. He is charged with causing injury to a child less than fourteen years. Peterson's attorney said, "Adrian is a loving father who used his judgment as a parent to discipline his son. It is important to remember that Adrian never intended to harm his son and deeply regrets the unintentional injury."

Before answering the lead question of this article, I will share two anecdotes and a news item.

Janice and I went to a layout at a local funeral home where we encountered a highly respected gentleman from the Butler area. The Peterson case was heavy on my mind as it tied into what I perceive is a lack of discipline in our society. As the evening waned, I turned to him and asked who had been his principal when he had attended Butler High School. He replied, "Gus Browning, mainly."

"Did he ever spank you?" I asked.

His eyes lit up like he was feeling the electricity of the moment still. "Did he ever! He paddled me and D. P. for playing hooky one day. We never played hooky again."

"Do you resent that paddling today?" I queried.

"No," he answered. "We got what was coming to us; we knew the rules. It was mainly D. P.'s fault; I let him lead me into it."

The second anecdote I have previously reported in this column, but it is germane to the question of this article. I was getting my haircut while I was superintendent of schools when I struck up a conversation with a lady who was waiting her turn. I asked her how her children were doing in school. I found out they were making average grades and were luke warm toward school; that her biggest problem with them, ages 14 and 16, was rebellion toward her authority as a single mother. She said that most of the time when she tried to exercise discipline, her children would threaten to turn her in to Child Welfare.

The third point is a news item that reported that frequently over 100 murders are committed in the Chicago area during a week-end. Authorities say many of these kids and young men do not have a father figure in their lives and they resort to gangs for guidance, a guidance laced with drugs and violence.

Conclusions:

1. Corporal punishment, properly administered, is not the disaster that some psychologists and Dr. Spock would have us believe.

2. Our government should not be telling us how to rear our children; especially since they have undermined the American family with many laws and regulations.

3. Any physical damage to Adrian Peterson's son is more than counter weighed by the involvement of a strong father figure in his life.

4. Based on what I know, Adrian Peterson should not be suspended from the National Football League. Perhaps a small fine and an admonishment from the judge, but no more. That's my opinion. What's yours?

We're all EARS!

Chapter 2

"Dogwood, what's going on?" Mom asked as I tugged the robber's shoes, keeping him secure until the cops arrived. "We heard the harmonica, and it sounded so much, uh, different, than usual and we thought we would check it out. Why are you chewing on this gentleman's shoes?"

Knowing I couldn't take the chance of letting go of the criminal to answer Mom, I looked at Chloe to explain.

"Well," Chloe began, "Woody and I were walking through the neighborhood, staying on the grass and sidewalks when we saw this man break through the window of this house. A few minutes later we saw him leave the house, so we decided to capture him and hold him until the cops arrived."

As soon as Chloe finished her explanation, the robber began to laugh. Mom and Dad have taught us we are never to be disrespectful to anyone, so I didn't respond to his laughter, although I knew he wouldn't be laughing when he went to jail.

"I do declare I've moved to the most plumb perfect neighborhood," the robber said. "My name is Bo Blackford, and I just moved here two days ago. I ran to the hardware store earlier, and my mind was a-fluttering and I locked my keys in the car. My only other set of car keys was in the house, but I couldn't unlock the house because my house key was on my key ring that was locked in the car."

His explanation reminded me of the old lady who swallowed the bird to catch the spider that caught the fly ... or did she swallow the spider to catch the bird? Anyway, the interesting sound to this man's voice plus the funny phrases he said had me confused. Still, he didn't need to finish the explanation. I had overreacted. Letting go of his shoelace, I apologized for jumping to conclusions. Then we each introduced ourselves.

"Young man," Mom said with a twinkle in her eye and a grin on her face, "aren't we always asking you to listen instead of jumping to conclusions? It seems to me your new fascination has caused your imagination to go into overdrive."

"Fascination?" Mr. Blackford asked.

"Yes," Dad said. "Woody has fallen in love with these stories about a boy named Jack. Jack always seems to find himself in a pickle, but in the end he catches a grizzly bear, outsmarts a giant and even catches some robbers." With that last sentence, Dad winked at me.

"I know Jack," Mr. Blackford replied.

"You know Jack?" Chloe and I responded in perfect unison.

"Why sure! I grew up in the Appalachian region of Kentucky. Ever'body in Appalachia knows Jack!" Mr. Blackford said proudly.

"I didn't realize there was an Apple region of Kentucky," Chloe replied.

"Appalachian," Mr. Blackford clarified. "Think 'Apple-at-choo' and then change the 'choo' to a 'chin'. Now try it."

"Apple-at-chin," we both said carefully. "Now that we can say it, what does it mean?" I asked, making everyone snicker again.

"A quick little geography lesson for you free of charge," Mr. Blackford said. "Appalachia is a cultural region in the southeastern part of the United States that reaches from northern Mississippi, Alabama, and Georgia to the southern tier of New York State. Here in Kentucky, 54 counties are part of the Appalachian region. Appalachia is known for its strong roots, functional art, dulcimer music, folk tales and, most of all, its good people."

"I bet Jack's one of those good people, right Mr. Blackford?" I asked, wanting to know about my newfound hero. "Do you know Jack's family too? Do they live close to you in the Apple-at-choo, uh, chin, region?"

"Little fella, ever'body in Appalachia not only knows Jack but loves Jack! We grew up with him. I'll tell you a secret, pups," Mr. Blackford whispered with a twinkle in his eye. Mom, Dad, Chloe and I leaned in to listen. "I brought Jack with me when I moved here."

I wasn't sure whose eyes were bigger -- mine or Chloe's!

"Jack's here? With you?" I exclaimed, stunned at the terrific news and confused as to why Jack hadn't opened the door for Mr. Blackford instead of him having to break through a window.

"Sure as shootin'! Why don't you and your folks come on back in the house and meet him now? I can run and get my car after we spin a yarn or two."

"I don't know how to knit," I confessed, "but Chloe knows how to embroider. She can make pretty daisies." I'm not sure why, but Mr. Blackford and my parents laughed before we went inside to meet my hero. Rather than crawling through the window, we used the key Mr. Blackford had retrieved from the house.

Governor's Scholars Program applications

Pendleton County High School has announced the school-wide competition for the 2015 Kentucky Governor's Scholars Program (GSP).

The Governor's Scholars Program is a stimulating, five-week, residential summer program for outstanding Kentucky students completing their junior year in high school. The host colleges for the summer of 2015 will be Bellarmine University in Louisville, Morehead State University, and Murray State University. Established in 1983, the popular program provides academic and personal growth in a challenging, non-traditional experience that balances a strong liberal arts program with a full co-curricular and residential life.

While not a scholarship program, many universities and colleges across the state recognize the significance of participation in this program and provide special scholarship opportunities to students who have completed the Governor's Scholars Program.

The Governor's Scholar Program competition is open to all juniors. It is highly competitive and involves a lengthy application process. The students are selected based on multiple criteria that include academic record, ACT, SAT or PSAT test scores, teacher recommendation, community leader recommendation, personal essay, and student resume that consists of activities as well as demonstrated leadership and service.

Pendleton County High School is eligible to nominate six juniors based on grade 11 enrollment standards set by GSP. These nominees will compete with over 1,900 students from across the state for approximately 1,050 spots on one of the three campuses.

School specific information for Pendleton County High School juniors is now available in the Guidance Office. For general program information, go to www.gsp.ky.gov.

To be considered for school nomination, applicants must return completed applications to the Pendleton County High School Counseling Office on or before 4 p.m., Tuesday, October 28, 2014.

Three Ladycats honored on Senior Night

By Cindy Fitzpatrick

Three very special young ladies were recognized on Saturday, September 20 for their dedication and leadership as senior members of the Ladycat soccer team. Coach Myers is proud of this group and insists that they are a huge part of the success of the Ladycats Varsity program over the past few years.

Hailey Bishop, number 20, is finishing up her sixth and final year as a Ladycat, starting with the program in the 7th grade. Hailey has played in various positions throughout her career, most currently playing defense, although she has scored four goals this season and had two assists. Her tenacity and aggressiveness on the field allows the Ladycats to bring a new level to their intensity.

Amber Blackaby, number 12, is in her fifth year as a Ladycat and has also been a versatile member of the team. Amber has played the left wing most of this year, but has also come through for the Ladycats as their goalie in some key games. Her biggest asset to the team is her positive attitude in all situations. Amber has scored three goals so far this season.

The third and final senior is McKayla Manor, number 2.

She is also in her fifth year with the Ladycat program and is an integral part of the team. McKayla is playing tremendous defense this year and under her direction, the defense has recorded three shutouts against their last three competitors. Although in a defensive role, McKayla is the top scorer on the team with eight goals and has four assists.

Ladycat stats for the week: Ladycats beat Paris 7-0 on September 15. Two goals each by Amber Blackaby and Sidney Dietrich, one goal each by McKayla Manor, Katie Boggs, and Makayla Bishop.

Ladycats beat Villa Madonna 1-0 on Senior Night with the lone goal scored by Madison Wirth.

Ladycats played Mason County on Monday, September 22, with results unavailable at this time.

Come out and support your Ladycats at their next home game, Thursday, September 25 against Covington Latin. Varsity plays at 5 p.m. followed by JV.

Roseberry earns third medalist honors

Serving double duties this spring as the #1 golfer for the Wildcat Golf team and varsity goalie for the Wildcat Soccer team, Trey Roseberry's schedule has been busy with soccer and golf matches and practices squeezed into it.

But he was able to card a 39 on Tuesday at Pendleton Country Club against Highlands to earn his third medalist honors of the season. Cameron Auchter, Logan Fugate, Ian Tackett and Zak Bowen also played in the match for Pendleton.

The Cats picked up a dominating win over Williamstown but had matches against Bourbon County and Harrison County canceled.

They play Harrison County and Campbell County JV this week as they gear up for the Regional Tournament Tuesday, September 30 at Eagle Creek.

Junior Trey Roseberry watches his ball seek the pin in a match at Pendleton Country Club.

Morgan Cobb wins first medal honors

Sophomore Morgan Cobb fired the low round in the Ladycat Golf's victory over Brossart firing a 46 with teammates Holley Hart and Mackenzie Moore right behind. Shelby Johnson provided the fourth Ladycat winning score.

Three Ladycats competed in the Tom Johnson Memorial at Eagle Creek with Mackenzie Moore firing a 90 and Holley Hart right behind with a 91. Shelby Johnson also competed.

The Ladycats are spending their last week of the regular season preparing for Region 8 tournament on Monday, September 29 at Maysville Country Club.

Both Mackenzie Moore (2013) and Holley Hart (2012) have individual appearances at the KHSAA State Tournament and are in the mix for a return trip. Morgan Cobb has the game to throw her name in the mix for a region tournament berth. Eighth grader Shelby Johnson will play in her second regional tournament with the fifth golfer still being decided between Lauryn Stout and Brook Cobb.

Scott County is the odds on favorite to continue their dominance winning all but one of the Region 8 team trophies. Mason County has the home course advantage and a solid team. George Rogers Clark and Pendleton can be in the mix for a team state tournament appearance if the drives find fairways and the putts find the bottom of the cup more often than not.

Cross Country dominates at Bourbon

Walker Lea, Montgomery Franxman and Caleb Vanorio were bunched at the top of the leader board as they took 2nd, 3rd and 4th respectively in the Bourbon County All-Comers event on September 16.

Kenton Hornbeck was just seconds behind in 6th place with teammates Ian West in 9th, Justin Lambert was in 11th with 8th grader Samuel Peoples finished in 13th. Chris Hess was in 16th, Logan Conner 19th, Isaiah Caldwell finished 20th and Andrew Peterson 21st.

With the strong showing the PCHS Wildcat CC team easily took first.

The PCHS Ladycat CC team had an equally strong showing and also took first over Bourbon County.

They were bunched in 3rd through 7th place with 8th grader Anna Baxter leading the way. She was followed in order by Alexis Tolbert, Xanthia Jensen, Brooklyn McKinney, and Amelia Franxman. Only one spot later a trio of Ladycats finished. Shelby Shaefer in 9th, Susie Wright in 10th, and Madison Meyer in 11th.

On Saturday, in a much deeper field that saw 192 girls competing, 8th grader Anna Baxter finished 112th.

The Wildcats finished 16th out of 31 teams with Montgomery Franxman being the top male finisher. He finished 60th out of 228 runners. Walker Lea was in 69th.

Ladycat Youth Volleyball sign-ups underway

Pendleton County Recreation is always looking to offer more opportunities for the PC youth to participate, be active and learn. With that mission in mind, the Ladycat Volleyball Youth League will start this October and run through the Monday before Thanksgiving.

This being the first year of youth volleyball, the setting will be more instructional and less competitive as the young Ladycats learn.

Each young lady will receive a PC Volleyball shirt and a youth volleyball to keep and practice with their parents at home.

Registration forms are being distributed at each of the elementary schools as well as Sharp Middle School but also can be downloaded at <http://pendletoncounty.ky.gov> and clicking on Recreation/Sports. Forms should be returned by mail or can be dropped off between the hours of 5-9 p.m. at the Rec Office.

The program goal is for a 2nd/3rd grade league that will practice on Tuesday nights from 6:30-8 p.m. at the PCHS auxiliary gym as well as Saturday mornings from 9:30-11 am.

There will also be a 4th-6th grade league that will practice on Thursday nights from 6:30-8:00 at the PCHS auxiliary gym as well as Saturday mornings from 9:30-11:00 am. Only 6th graders that were not on the Sharp Volleyball traveling team are eligible.

If you have any questions, you can contact Keith.Smith@pendleton.kyschools.us, or Volleyball Youth Director, mariabruener23@yahoo.com or call the Pendleton County Recreation Office at 859-654-5800.

Archery coming to Pendleton County High School

The Pendleton County Board of Education approved the creation of an archery program for the 2014-15 school year and the season is poised to start. Archery is a winter sport and will run from October through February.

Phillip Sharp Middle School teacher David Myers is assuming the helm of the new program and Jason Barnes is serving as assistant coach.

They will be hosting a Archery Information meeting at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, September 24 in the Pendleton County High School auditorium to disseminate information and answer questions.

Each individual and their parents interested needs to attend this meeting.

Also, every archer must have a Kentucky High School Athletic Association approved physical on file with Pendleton County High School. The approved physical form can be downloaded at www.pendleton.kyschools.us/athletics.aspx and click on forms.

If you have any questions or for additional information you can contact Pendleton County Athletic Director Keith.Smith@pendleton.kyschools.us or David. Myers@pendleton.kyschools.us.

Wildcats win 48-6 over rival Bracken

By Steven Peed

A sign of a strong team is how they handle adversity. After a week filled with it, the Wildcats traveled to face their border rival to the East, Bracken County on September 19. While it was Bracken's homecoming, the visitors had most of the fun as Pendleton came away a 48-6 winner.

The running game was a big reason why the Wildcats found success, as they rolled up 275 yards rushing. Leading the way was senior Hunter Lea, as he totaled up 92 yards and a touchdown on just 4 carries. Lea also found the end zone through the passing game. Kaven Stockton also had success, with 4 carries for 41 yards and two scores.

In coach Brown's absence, Brian Burgemeir was acting head coach. "The guys really stepped up their effort this week, I'm super proud of them," commented Burgemeir. "We talked about taking control on the ground and on the D-line, and we accomplished both tonight."

The aforementioned defense was able to come up seven sacks and several fumble recoveries, with sophomore Austin Magee causing a pair of turnovers. Pendleton put up a pair of 21-point quarters in the first half, while only allowing Bracken to find the end zone on their Wildcat QB #5, Austin Stull, has to make the read on handing the ball to #45 Kaven Stockton, pitch to #4 Hunter Lea, make the run through the hole himself, or drop back to make a pass while #66 Elye Hall is providing protection for him.

opening drive of the game. The 36 point lead allowed the second half to begin with the running clock rule, and provided time for Pendleton to use their reserves.

A lone third quarter score by Pendleton rounded out the offense for the evening and provided the final 48-6 tally. With the win, the Wildcats advance to 2-3 on the year, while Bracken drops to 0-5.

Up next for Pendleton will be a trip to Newport on Friday evening. While Newport is coming off a loss to Class A power Williamsburg, coach Terry Brown realizes this game will be no easy task. "Newport is strong at the skill positions, and they have great size up front. We have to get eleven hats to the ball on every snap in order to win this game," said Brown. The game with Newport (1-3) is scheduled to kickoff 7 p.m.

Stats: Passing - Austin Stull 7/6 78 yds. 1 TD, 2 INT. Rushing - Hunter Lea 4 carries, 92 yards, 1 TD; Austin Stull 4 carries, 72 yds. 2 TD; Kaven Stockton 4 carries, 41 yards, 2 TD; Jaleel Crumes 6 carries, 45 yds. 1 TD. Defense - Ben Blevins 7 tackles; Griffin Appleman 5 tackles, sack; Austin Magee 2 tackles; 2 fumble recoveries; Cain Baker 6 tackles, 3 sacks, 1 fumble recovery.

Wildcats drop three as injuries continue

By Sam McClanahan, Reporter

Injuries have taken quite a toll on the Wildcats roster this season. As a result, several underclassmen have been plugged into starting roles and taken on heavy minutes as the club heads into the final weeks of the regular season.

The Cats dropped three straight games last week and currently pose a 4-10 mark. Assistant coach Ryan Sergeant says despite the mounting list of injuries, he is still pleased with the effort and resolve shown by the team.

"I'm impressed by the maturity and toughness shown by the players. We've continued to keep our heads up through the hard times and continue to give our best effort," said Sergeant.

Leading scorer Andre Bilibio suffered a torn ACL that ended his season two weeks ago. Junior Jacob Johnson has been out of action for the previous five games while junior Clay Thompson continues to recover from a concussion he sustained last week. Last Tuesday, Sept. 16., the Wildcats fell at home by a 3-1 final to Covington Latin. Sophomore Mike DeWald scored an early first half goal for Pendleton County but the team was unable to find the net for the duration of the game.

The Cats suffered lopsided defeats at the hands of Bishop Brossart and Campbell County as well. The Mustangs knocked off PC 9-0 last Thursday while the Camels enjoyed a 7-0 win. Coach Sergeant is optimistic the team can regain some semblance of health over the next few weeks as district play looms near.

"It's tough for any team to have success with so many experienced players on the sidelines, but I have been pleased to see how our younger guys have responded to the increased playing time. Going forward and looking ahead to next year, the playing time they gain now will pay off in the future."

The Cats travel to take on border rival Harrison County at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 23. On Thursday, Sept. 25., the team will host Simon Kenton at 7 p.m.

Ladycat Volleyball defeats Bourbon County

The Ladycats pulled the season sweep of Bourbon County with a 25-18, 25-22 two game victory. The victory gave the Ladycats a 6-9 record in the season.

Jordan Bishop led the way with five aces and six assists while the Cats had three with multiple kills, Hailey York with three, Cheyenne Egbring and Autumn Pugh each with two.

"The girls stepped up their game and had good teamwork and communication," coach Laura Buck commented on the Ladycat victory.

Pendleton travels to Newport on Monday and Robertson County on Thursday, September 25. Sandwiched in between is a home game versus Seniors Hannah Pugh and Cheyenne Egbring try to dig a shot in a Ladycat volleyball match.

Please contact Bridget Magee at 859-905-8982 or pchsfootballboosters@gmail.com for more information.

It's time to bowl!

The Wildcats Bowling team is poised to follow up on their successful first season with an open lanes from 4:30-6:30 on September 24 at Southern Lanes in Alexandria. Cost is $5 per person for rental use for the two hours. Varsity coach Gary Polley will be there to answer any questions concerning official practices, the upcoming season and help you with your ability to rip one down the lane and scatter the pins for a strike.

Ways to achieve adequate amounts of vitamin D

Vitamin D has gotten a lot of media coverage lately as various studies have tied normal levels of vitamin D to certain health benefits and lack of the vitamin to certain diseases. While many of these current studies provide conflicting messages, it is generally understood that vitamin D is needed for optimal health. It helps us absorb calcium and phosphorus, so we can have strong bones and teeth. The vitamin also regulates the amount of calcium in our blood, helps strengthen our immune system and helps regulate cell growth. It also decreases the risk of falls in older adults by as much as 20 percent. A lack of vitamin D can cause your bones to soften and increases your risk of bone fractures.

Our exposed skin produces vitamin D from sun exposure. Our bodies do not need a lot of sun exposure to help us reach our recommended daily amount. About 15 minutes in the sun three times a week is enough.

Individuals who have certain skin diseases may not be able to get adequate amounts of vitamin D, as they need to limit their skin's exposure to the sun. People with dark skin, older adults and overweight individuals may not be able to produce adequate amounts of vitamin D with sun exposure alone. Winter sunlight is also not strong enough for any of us to get adequate amounts of vitamin D. We can get our daily-recommended amount of vitamin D by adding foods to our diets that naturally contain vitamin D or are fortified with the vitamin.

Fatty fish such as salmon, cod and tuna naturally contain high levels of vitamin D. The vitamin is also found in egg yolks in smaller quantities. Foods fortified with vitamin D include most milk, some orange juices, yogurt, cheese, cereal, bread and soy drinks. A reference to vitamin D is usually only found on food labels of fortified foods.

Vitamin D supplements are also available for those deficient in the vitamin. Check with your doctor before adding any kind of supplement to your diet.

More information about healthy living is available at the Pendleton County office of the University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service.

Join 4-H in new school year

Back to school time is a great time to make new starts, try new things and meet new friends. Young people can do all of that through 4-H.

4-H offers experiential learning to youth ages 9 to 18 with something for all interests from insects to space to sewing. There are topics for everyone. By participating in 4-H, youth develop many essential life skills including responsibility, leadership and self-esteem.

Young people can get involved in 4-H by participating in clubs or completing projects. Clubs provide them with a chance to practice leadership skills while making new friends. Topics vary across the state depending on local youth interests and range from animals to communications to financial management.

From science to crafts, youth of all ages and abilities will find something that interests them in 4-H projects. By completing projects, they not only develop new interests and hobbies but also important skills such as self-confidence, time management and critical thinking. While the deadline has passed for state fair entries this year, youth can get a jump-start on next year's project by joining 4-H this month.

In addition to clubs and projects, 4-H offers numerous in-school and after-school programs for students. 4-H youth development agents make many visits to county schools throughout the year to offer hands-on learning. Many times they reinforce subjects being taught in school, but they also provide information on topics such as character development, fitness and healthy eating.

After-school programs offer fun, hands-on activities for young people in a safe environment. Programs differ among communities depending on 4-H's needs and interests, but some possible subjects include healthy living, communications, family and consumer sciences, environmental and earth science, plants and animals, science and technology and leadership. By participating in any of these programs, 4-H members learn how to set goals, make sound decisions and resolve conflicts.

4-H offers a world of opportunities for youth to explore. For more information on how you or your child can get involved, contact your Pendleton County Cooperative Extension Service.

Landscape care in the fall

So often we hear that fall or winter is a particularly good time to do certain things in the landscape. This is usually due to the fact that plants have entered into winter dormancy.

You can compare dormancy to an extended period of "rest" for plants, when they are relatively inactive in terms of metabolic processes (photosynthesis, respiration and transpiration, for example). I say relatively inactive, because although these processes slow during dormancy, they do not cease altogether. Most temperate perennial plants will enter dormancy in autumn as daylight shortens, temperatures (including soil temperatures) become cooler, terminal buds are set, and perhaps as a result of drier conditions during late summer and fall.

Going dormant is the way these plants survive the cold of winter. It is important that landscape maintenance activities not interfere with the plant's natural process of becoming dormant. Let's use pruning and fertilization practices as examples.

Fall is considered a poor time to prune most woody perennials. Pruning will remove terminal buds that help to maintain dormancy in many species. The presence of the terminal bud, even in a seemingly inactive state, suppresses the growth of lower buds through a process called apical dominance, a type of dormancy imposed on the lateral buds. If you remove the apical bud, it may encourage lateral buds to initiate growth in a plant that has not yet fully entered a dormant state. Once lateral bud growth is initiated, dormancy will be hard to achieve, even with the advent of shortening day length and cooler temperatures. So pruning in the fall may trigger new growth that delays dormancy and predisposes the plant to winter injury.

It is better to prune plants in late winter, around mid-February to mid-March. This also allows you to evaluate and remove winter-damaged limbs. Pruning in late winter will occur just before one of the most active times of plant growth, bud break, when the plant is redirecting stored nutrients from the root system out to the branches. This would be the most rapid time for the plant to heal wounds (in our case the pruned surface), while fall would be the slowest time for wound healing. An exception is if you are removing dead or severely damaged limbs due to breakage, insects or disease. In that case, it is best for you to remove them as soon as possible at any time of the year. If the plant you are pruning is spring-blooming (generally flowering before early June), it would be better from a flowering display perspective to wait until after flowering to prune since the pruning process will remove preexisting flower buds.

What about fertilization of woody plants? Fall and winter are considered the best times to apply fertilizer, but you should only do this once woody plants are fully dormant. Otherwise, applying fertilizer might trigger new growth and predispose the plant to winter injury.

How can you tell if plant is dormant? If leaves are falling, the plant has probably entered dormancy sufficiently to allow fertilization. To be doubly safe, wait until temperatures are unlikely to climb into the 70-degree range. In Kentucky this could occur anytime from mid-October to mid-November, so to be absolutely safe this probably means mid-November or later. It's best to get the fertilizer down before the soil has frozen so it won't remain on the soil surface and won't be subject to runoff with any additional precipitation.

If you don't fertilize between Thanksgiving and Christmas, wait until the ground thaws in late February or early March to apply fertilizer. However, you must realize that February and March are not the best times for applying fertilizer to lawns composed of cool-season grasses (fescues, bluegrass and perennial ryegrass). If you are regularly applying fertilizer to your lawn, woody plants growing nearby are likely getting sufficient nutrients from these applications and probably don't need additional fertilizer.

For more information on fall landscape care or other gardening topics, contact the Pendleton County Cooperative Extension Service.

County Homemakers held annual meeting September 11

By Monica Yeamans, Pendleton County Extension Homemakers Reporter

About 100 members and guests attended the 64th annual meeting of the County Extension Homemakers held Thursday, September 11 at the Pendleton County Extension Center. Outgoing president, Judie Lambert, welcomed all to the meeting. A memorial service was conducted by Mt. Auburn Homemakers club members Carolyn Flaughter and Hilda Wright honoring members who had passed away in the last year. Phyllis Kelsch gave the inspiration, Pastor Mike Flynn said the blessing and the evening's meal was then served by members of the Butler Homemaker Club.

After the meal the business meeting was opened by Mrs. Lambert. Reading of the previous year's meeting and treasurer's report were given. Mrs. Lambert presented her president's report for the past year.

Under new business a budget presented by the treasurer, Ellin Crotty, was adopted for the ensuing year by the members present. Denise Dean presented the Nominating Committee's slate of new officers: President Flo McDonald and Secretary: Doris Meyer. Members present voted in the new slate of officers.

The annual meeting of the Extension Homemakers recognizes achievements of the past year of club members and friends of homemakers.

Joyce Beckett presented the awards for individual perfect attendance. Perfect attendance is achieved by attending all eight of the homemaker lessons for the year. For one to 14 years of perfect attendance members receive a ribbon; for 15 or more years of perfect attendance members receive a plaque which is then engraved every year.

Faye Godman presented the Volunteer Service Unit awards. Members receive a thimble for every 500 hours of volunteer service. Once a member achieves five thousand service hours, a thimble display case is given to the member. Dixie Tackett of the Mt. Auburn Club has performed over 21 thousand hours of volunteer service. Five of the six Homemaker Clubs achieved 100 percent participation of its members in Volunteer Service hours reported. Each club received a certificate good for one 'Beast' pizza from Snappy Tomato Pizza, Falmouth.

Monica Yeamans, Cultural Arts Chairperson, read the names of the Cultural Arts winners and those members who achieved the Reading Awards. All cultural arts winners need to bring their blue ribbon winning items to the extension center before the area annual meeting in October.

The annual 'Go-Getter' award presented to a club member who goes above and beyond to help her club and community was presented this year by Shirley Seever, to Clara Holmes

The 'Friend of Homemaker' award was presented by Dinah Shelley to Billy Hall for his unceasing support of the homemakers with his continuing volunteer services as auctioneer at our annual cake auction.

Installation of the officers was then performed by Marlene McComas, 1st vice president of the Kentucky Extension Homemakers Association.

As part of the annual meeting and a fund raiser for the county homemakers a silent auction had been ongoing during the meeting with items donated by each of the six clubs. The silent auction winners were announced by the Mt. Auburn club.

President Flo McDonald gave some closing remarks and the meeting adjourned after members present recited the Kentucky Homemakers Creed.

All members present with perfect attendance for the 2013-2014 year from 1 to 51 years.

Perfect attendance recipients of 15 years or more.

BERLIN BAPTIST

We invite all to come and worship with our family of believers. Sunday services begin with Sunday school at 10 a.m., morning worship at 11 a.m., and Sunday night services are held at 7 p.m., message by Brother Dan Black.

This past Sunday was a wonderful time in the Lord at Berlin Baptist Church. Brother Dan's message was taken from Psalms 119:33-4 titled, "Is it your heart's desire to follow Gods commandments?"

We are holding our Fall Revival September 19-21 with Evangelist David Smeltz. Night service will be held at 7 p.m., the 19 and 20. Sunday morning service will begin with Sunday school at 10 a.m., and revival service at 11 a.m. We will also be serving lunch after the Sunday morning service. All are welcome to attend. We look forward to a wonderful time in the Lord.

BUTLER METHODIST

What a lovely day for an outdoor service and picnic! A large crowd gathered around the shelter for the morning worship and then for a meal afterwards. The tables were laden with wonderful foods while the men prepared the hamburgers and hot dogs on the grills. It was a great day for fellowshiping. PTL

The ladies met on Friday evening preparing dresses for the African children and cleaning up the kitchen. They are getting ready for their big event (the Christ-mas auction) to be held November 8.

The men met on Saturday getting food boxes ready for pick-up and delivery.

Please keep in prayer the Fardo family, Shirley Mains, Betty Bay, Jeff Dicken and all those we keep uplifted.

Come worship with us Sunday and receive a blessing. God be with you.

CHAPEL OF PRAISE

The church family was deeply saddened to receive news on Sunday afternoon of Sister Tammy Clos Stewart's passing.

She was an inspiration to all that knew her and throughout her battle with cancer she always spoke of her faith and trust that she had placed in the Lord. She certainly went home to a great reward!

Sunday morning's message was titled, "The Believer's Past-Present-and Future." The golden text was taken from Ephesians 2:6.

Paul under the power of the Holy Spirit tells us that we sit together in heavenly places with Christ.

Regardless of what we are facing at the present time, a glorious future awaits all of God's children on the other side.

We invite you and your family to be a part of our service and receive God's word from a "Pentecostal perspective."

FALMOUTH BAPTIST

Greetings from the Falmouth Baptist Church. We encourage you to stop by and worship with us anytime.

The choir sang "Victory Chant" and "Song of Moses" from the balcony for a change of pace. We also serenaded Mrs. Evelyn Fryer as she was with us to celebrate her 102nd birthday. Yes, I said her 102nd birthday!

September is the month we emphasize the Eliza Broadus Offering for state missions. Every penny collected stays right here in KY and is used to help share Christ with our bluegrass neighbors. Please pray and give generously.

Brother Cohen's message asked, "How are you going to overcome?" We need to remember that Satan and his minions are constantly throwing challenges our way. In Exodus we see where God led Moses through one challenge after another. If we allow Him, God will lead us through all the challenges we face today as well.

FALMOUTH CHRISTIAN

Brother Nathan's message was from I Kings 19:1-18.

It is about fear and depression of Elijah. We all have fears, but if we have faith in God, He will take care of us. We just need to stop and listen to God's voice. God speaks more in little ordinary ways rather than extraordinary.

Remember God loves us and will always be there when we need Him, if we will let Him into our heart.

Pray for the sick, the lost, those who have lost loved ones and our country.

Youth group grade six through 12 meet Wednesdays at 6 p.m.

Go to church and my you have many blessings.

FALMOUTH WESLEYAN

Pastor Nick shared a great testimony how the Lord answered his prayer to heal his burned hand and amaze the doctors. Nick shared about more amazing things God does through Jesus with the doctors.

We've been learning lessons on how selfishness hinders us serving God. Sunday we learned selfishness hinders compassion. Compassionate people look for opportunities to minister to others. Selfish people run from opportunities God gives them.

God pursued Jonah until he repented. The sailors hesitated throwing him overboard. The city of Nineveh was an enemy of Israel and its prophets, but gave Jonah a chance to speak. What great compassion was shown Jonah!

It seems that everyone had compassion on Jonah, yet Jonah only thought of himself. Compassion is a selfless act that Jesus showed the world, and Christians are to show daily.

Worship our Lord and Savior with us! Sunday's 11 a.m., and 6 p.m. Wednesday's 6:30 p.m., and Thursday's 7 p.m.

GARDNERSVILLE CHRISTIAN

Come join us for morning worship service starting at 11 a.m., and meet our new minister Kenny Allen-der, located at 3929 Center Ridge Road, DeMossville, Ky.

HARVEST COMMUNITY

Brother Donnie's morning message was based on John 11:38-44, "In Search of God's Glory." Through learning about Christ's life, we can understand how wonderful God is and what He is really like. As our knowledge deepens, the Holy Spirit helps us to change. The more closely we follow Christ, the more we will be like Him.

Preparations have begun for our Wool Fest booth, supply shopping, pepper slicing and freezing, trailer upgrading and organizing. This is a great time of fellowship along with lots of hard work. Our annual "Red Lobster Sunday" is the 28, as this is our festival kick off day.

Prayer concerns: Elstun and Jessie Bobb, Alice Bergman and family, Steve Faulkner, Jeff Dicken, Bill Bray and the families of Tammy Clos Stewart, Keith Fardo and William "Bill" Clair.

The season change is upon us, enjoy God's artistic talents!

MORGAN CHRISTIAN

This Sunday dawned a beautiful sunny crisp morning. The air was a bit chilly but the sky was a clear blue enhanced by the sun. Kathie talked with the children about how we can trust God to look after us. We have to let go of the habit of depending on ourselves and let God have control. Steve Work gave his message in song. Steve Wood led us in thought as to how God works every day miracles that we don't really understand until everything is over.

Gloria - Estille Vaughn were elders with April - Ken Lecrone, Debbie Fultz and Charles Whaley serving as deacons.

Don't forget our Wednesday night Bible study. Eat at 6 p.m., in Shotwell-Aulick Fellowship hall with Bible study at 7 p.m., in church parsonage.

Thank you God for this good life and forgive us if we do not love it enough.

MT. MORIAH

Brother Breeden asked us to put things in perspective in our lives, as he shared about Noah. An Ark is a "Safe Place," an Alter is a "place to worship." Noah walked with God amidst his surroundings, in other words he didn't let his surroundings affect him. Genesis 6:14-22 proved his obedience. Genesis 8:1 Noah was remembered by God. Our Ark (safe place) should be our relationship with God. Are you building that relationship? Do you have the safe place? Build your Ark before the storm. Build an Alter "in your life," in other words, make place in your life to worship God. The service ended beautifully with Kathy Jackson giving her life to the Lord.

Our prayer list now includes the family of Tammy Stewart, Keith Fardo, Charlene Case, Dennie Jamel, Gary Bombeck, Linda Bryant, Kayla Wolfe and family and others.

NEW ZION

Come join us for worship and Christian fellowship. Sunday school begins at 10 a.m., morning worship is at 11 a.m., and evening worship starts at 6:30 p.m. The CrossFire Crew and Bible study meet on

"I have called upon You, for You will answer me, O God; incline Your ear to me, hear my speech."
~ Psalm 17:6

Wednesdays at 6 p.m.

Upcoming opportunities: The hot dog roast will be at 7 p.m., October 4. At 12:30 p.m., October 12 there will be a business meeting.

Psalm 119:11, "Thy word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against thee."

Please remember in prayer Janet Bishop, Tina Cochran, John and Terri Thomas, Alice Brown, Tammy Stewart, George Biery, Josh, Patsy Dowd, Haley Pennington, Kay Thomas and the Boney, Lambert and Bergman families. Also remember to pray for our country and its leaders.

PLEASANT RIDGE

Brother Rick's message was from Exodus 20:17. You shall not covet.

The tenth commandment is about our inward self. It prohibits something inside us. God not only sees our actions, but also what we think. Coveting is wanting what someone else has. Not one like it but what that person actually has. They believe that person does not deserve whatever it is and they do.

Jesus said that what comes out of a man's heart, is what defines him. Coveting destroys ones inner peace and is a deceptive sin.

You can control your covetous heart with God. Make Jesus Christ the Lord the center of your life.

Sunday night Bible study will be from various books of the Bible on Christian belief.

PINE GROVE

It was another beautiful Sunday as we gathered to worship God. Carol reviewed our prayer list stressing the need for remembering the sick in our prayers and adding the family of Keith Fardo.

Carol's message was taken from I Timothy and Paul's teachings to Timothy on the importance of faith and good conscience. That our prayers should include all people and that we should pray with attitude on thanksgiving. Melanie Redden's music rendition was a blessing.

Carol revealed to us that due to ill health, she would be resigning as of October 1. We will miss Carol and David as they have been with us for 10 and a half years. Our prayers are with them as they make their future plans.

We were pleased to have visitors with us at the service as we are making a special effort to increase our attendance.

Our meeting on the 10 with our Dream Kids was productive and we plan to meet the second Wednesday of each month.

Upcoming events include the U.M.W. meeting at 6 p.m., September 17 and a tea party at the home of Susan Koeninger September 22 in Foster.

OAKLAND CHRISTIAN

Our Youth/Associate Minister Jordan McNabb, brought the message of the morning regarding "Why do we toil? Why do we worry?" Read Ecclesiastes 2:17-26.

Remember the Wool Fest, October 3-5. Oakland will have our "bean" booth again.

The Punches Family will be in concert at Milford Christian at 6 p.m., October 5.

Our sympathy to loved ones of Keith Fardo, Mike Childress, Midge Shields, and Glenna Valentine. Prayer concerns also include Janice Wolfe, Bonnie Logan (recent back surgery), Bobby Fogle, Zelma King, Bobby House (knee surgery), Lowell Thomas, Bridget Hart, Bennett Lester (2), David Collier, Joyce Holmes, Brady Purdy, Terry Maxedon, Velma Steele, Marge Logan, Barbara Singer, Brother Bruce Heller, Juanita Bentle, Pat Ray, our shut-ins, our schools, our college students, our armed forces, cancer issues and our leaders.

SOUTHSIDE

On September 14, Marvin Sullivan, worship leader, led the congregation in the morning worship service with the opening hymn, "Holy! Holy! Holy!" Brother Clay Sullivan preached the sermon, "Are We Obligated?" from Romans 1:8-17. He talked about how we, as Christians, are obligated in this life. We are obligated to one another, preaching the Gospel, and faith in Jesus Christ. The memory verse for the week comes from what the Apostle Paul says in Romans 1:14-15, "I am obligated both to Greeks and non-Greeks, both to the wise and the foolish. That is why I am so eager to preach the gospel also to you who are at Rome."

Come and worship with us this Sunday: 9 a.m., Sunday school and 10 a.m., worship service. Have a great day!

TRINITY

This past Sunday we celebrated the Lord's supper. Scripture focused on I Corinthians 11. The sermon was a teaching lesson. Brother Hefner instructed the children to gather around and he explained the importance of the bread and wine. He showed them what was in each shiny silver tray and told them what they represented. As Christians, we know the importance of the greatest sacrifice that was made for each one. The bread symbolizes the broken body that hung on that old cross while the wine/grape juice is a symbol of the spilling of His precious blood. The Lord's supper is always a special time to reflect and remember what was done on Calvary. Do we take our faith for granted?

Carl led the music. With this Sunday evening being a Phil Cross Choir Revival at Crittenden Baptist, he shared on of Phil's songs, "Call It Amazing," for special music.

Visitation/CARE meeting at 7 p.m., Tuesday night.
